

NIGHT WORK FOR PHOENIX BUNCH

Constitutional Convention of Arizona Must Get Down to Business.

LABORITES GET CHANCE TO TALK

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 18.—With only eleven days remaining of the allotted time, the constitutional convention will begin night sessions. Reports of the committees on school, land, irrigation and water rights, railroads, mines, corporations, and banking, are expected this afternoon and tonight.

No morning session was held, so committees could work.

Contract With Government.

Yesterday afternoon's session was given over to the consideration of the ordinance proposition containing the requirements placed on the new state by congress in the enabling act, the adoption of which closes the contract with the federal government. Provisions include those regarding religious rights, prohibition of polygamy, disposition of public lands and the federal policy regarding the liquor traffic with relation to the Indians. The measure was adopted with minor amendments.

Labor's Lining.

Labor had its day today, when consideration of seven propositions affecting labor were discussed in committee of the whole. All were reported favorably by the committee on labor. The propositions include prohibition of child labor, a compulsory semi-monthly payroll; prohibiting the exchange of "black lists" by corporations; providing an eight hour day and non-employment of aliens on public works, creating a department of labor with a labor commission, board of arbitration and state boiler inspector.

ARKANSAS MAN DIES IN GUANAJUATO; BRIEF NEWS NOTES

Guanajuato, Mexico, Nov. 18.—Roy C. Quetermours, a native of Stuttgart, Ark., died and was buried here. He was employed here by the Guanajuato Power and Electric company. Sr. Perfecto I. Aranda is now in complete charge as jefe politico of this city and has started several municipal improvements. Governor Joaquin Obregon Gonzalez and staff have returned from the towns of Colima, Tlaximora, Cuicatlan, Salvatierra and Uruapan, where several new projects of importance were inaugurated. The town of Tlaximora was raised from the rank of a town to that of a city and named Obregon Gonzalez.

ARGUMENTS BEING MADE IN FLANERY MURDER CASE

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 18.—It is expected that the entire day will be taken up with arguments in the case of Mrs. Fannie Flanery, charged with the murder of her husband. While her counsel was speaking this morning, the prisoner broke down and cried, when referred to as an abused and mistreated wife. A. S. Baskett and J. O. Wiley, the defense attorneys, occupied the morning. County attorney Lewelling and Cullen Thomas, for the state, and J. C. Patton and M. M. Marks for the defense, will speak this afternoon. The case may not reach the jury until Saturday.

DR. CRIPPEN'S FATHER DIES OF GRIEF

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 18.—Myron H. Crippen, the aged father of Dr. Hawley Crippen, under sentence of death in London for wife murder, died today in this city, friendless and penniless. His death was due to infirmities of old age, and was hastened by grief over his son's crime.

SUFFRAGETTES ATTACK PARLIAMENT; ARRESTED

London, Eng., Nov. 18.—The suffragettes, under the leadership of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, made an attack on parliament soon after the session opened today. Twelve women and one man were arrested.

Fully a thousand suffragettes marched on the parliament buildings and gave the police a lively fight. They had determined, if possible, to force the police cord on about the house of commons and, reaching premier Asquith, insist on the introduction of a woman's suffrage bill. The police, however, were too strong and the women were thrown back. Repeatedly they tried, breathless and disheveled, only to have their places on the fighting line taken by reserves. By 3 o'clock 21 women and two men were in police cells.

A large number of American jackies from the battleship fleet were amused spectators and lustily cheered on the combatants. The fight continued and the police were finally forced to make wholesale arrests. By 4 o'clock 92 suffragettes had been taken into custody.

During the battle a constable was badly cut across the hand by a knife. Among the suffragettes arrested was an American woman, Anne Martin, of Nevada. After a prolonged struggle the police cleared Parliament square, and three leaders of the demonstration, headed by Mrs. Pankhurst, were allowed to enter the lobby of the chamber, where they were informed by Mr. Asquith's secretary that the premier refused to see them and that there was no chance that a suffragettes' bill would be presented at the present session.

AMERICAN SAILORS STONE FRENCH CAFE

Cherbourg, France, Nov. 18.—Two hundred alleged disorderly blue-jackets from the American battleship fleet were expelled from a cafe here today. They stoned the building and threatened who interfered.

ELECTIONS IN BRITAIN WILL DECIDE

Question of Veto Power of House of Lords to Be Submitted to the Voters.

SETTLEMENT NOW APPEARS UNLIKELY

London, Eng., Nov. 18.—It is the intention of the government to pass the essential features of the budget income tax tea duty and remove the pauper disqualification for old age pensions and dissolve parliament November 28, should the lords in the meantime reject the veto bill.

Premier Asquith presented this program to the house of commons today.

In view of the failure of the conference on the veto, Mr. Asquith said it would be useless to attempt to bring about an agreement in the present parliament.

"The time has come," he said, "for this controversy which obstructs the whole path of progressive legislation, to be sent for a final decisive arbitration to a national tribunal."

LANDIS WILL NOT TRY BEEF CASE

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 18.—Judge K. M. Landis, in the United States district court, announced today to the lawyers appearing before him seeking a change of venue in the case against the Chicago meat packers that he would be unable to hear the case, irrespective of the argument for or against such course.

The packers are charged with conspiracy in restraint of trade and are specifically charged with having formed a so-called beef trust in the shape of the National Packing company.

Judge Landis may either allow a change of venue to the circuit court, or as dean of the district court, transfer it to another district judge.

REEVES COUNTY VALUES ARE GROWING; DRILLING WELLS

Pecos, Tex., Nov. 18.—The assessed valuation of Reeves county this year is $5,397,594, over two million more than a year ago. J. R. Uterback has bought M. L. Swinehart's land near town and is going to develop wells and place the land on the market in small tracts. A well has already been completed that furnishes 750 gallons of water a minute. The Rosenbaum Grain company, of El Paso, has contracted to drill 25 wells on the Barillo Spread tract, 29 miles south of Pecos.

The Pecos Daily Times is a reality.

The first issue appeared Wednesday. It is a four-column, four-page paper, edited by Louis B. J. Strickland, Jr., editor and publisher.

PRIVATE CLUBS CLOSED BY STATE OFFICIALS

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 18.—District judge Calhoun, of Austin, today revoked the charters of three fraternal clubs here on information from assistant attorney general Leddy, violation of the Sunday and anti-gambling laws. The clubs affected are Holland's Social club, the Railway and Pullman Porters' club, and the Elks' club. The state attorney general, J. C. Patton, and J. O. Wiley, the defense attorneys, occupied the morning. County attorney Lewelling and Cullen Thomas, for the state, and J. C. Patton and M. M. Marks for the defense, will speak this afternoon. The case may not reach the jury until Saturday.

ONLY VOTER IN PRECINCT.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 18.—Robert Waters has the distinction of being the only voter in North Island, this county. On election day he was judge, supervisor and the voter having held that distinction for several years. He rode back to land and deposited his box with the county clerk.

Physicians declare death must have been instantaneous.

As Johnstone's back, neck and both legs were broken, the bones of his thighs being forced through the flesh and the leather garments he wore.

Hoxsey in Air at Time.

Arch Hoxsey, who in a previous flight yesterday afternoon had reached an altitude of 2500 feet, had risen just before Johnstone began his fatal glide and was in the air when the accident took place. As he swung around the other end of the course he saw that Johnstone had fallen and guided his machine directly over the body of his friend in descending as soon as he could bring his plane to the ground. He rushed to the wreckage, where he and Walter Brookings helped to lift the mangled body into an automobile, which brought it to the city.

Several Small Accidents.

Thursday in alighting, Johnstone broke the left wing tip of his machine against the fence. It was the same tip that gave way Thursday and caused his death. Thursday when he started on his first flight one of the wheels on which the aeroplane runs along the ground gave way and had to be replaced. As he prepared to start for his last flight, a fox terrier that had broken through the fence, got directly in front of the machine and, backing frantically, refused to be driven away. As the machine rolled down his track one of the wings swept above the dog, which pursued the machine until it lifted into the air.

In discussing his flights in this rare atmosphere Wednesday, Johnstone declared he would attempt no "stunts" here, as he considered it too dangerous. Evidently, however, he believed he had solved the problems of this air.

JOHNSTONE, IN ATTEMPTING FANCY FLIGHT, HAS HIS MACHINE BUCKLE UP

Johnstone, in Attempting Fancy Flight, Has His Machine Buckle Up.

FALLS OVER 500 FEET TO EARTH

Denver, Colo., Nov. 18.—Ralph Johnstone, the brilliant young aviator, holder of the world's altitude record, dropped like a plummet yesterday from a height of 500 feet into the enclosure at Overland Park aviation field and was instantly killed.

As the spectators crowded about the wreck his body lay beneath the engine of the biplane with the white planes that had failed him in his time of need, wrapped about it like a shroud. Nearly every bone in his body was broken.

He had gambled with death once too often. Johnstone attempted to give the thousands of spectators an extra thrill with his most daring feat, the spiral glide which made the Wright aviators famous. The spectators got their thrill, but it cost Johnstone his life.

Despite yesterday's fatal accident, the aviation meet will be continued. Today flights were made by Arch Hoxsey in a Wright biplane and by J. C. Mars in a Curtis "Skylark," a new eight cylinder, 60 horse power machine, similar to the one which made a successful flight from the deck of the warship in Chesapeake bay a few days ago.

The fatal flight was the second Johnstone had made in the afternoon. In the first flight, when he was in the air with Hoxsey and Brookings, he went through his usual program of dips and glides with the machine, apparently under perfect control. Then Johnstone rose again, and after a few circuits of the course to gain height, headed toward the foothills. Still ascending, he swept back in a big circle and, as he reached the north end of the enclosure, he started his spiral glide. He was then at the altitude of about 500 feet. With his planes tilted at an angle of almost 90 degrees, he swooped down in a narrow circle, the aeroplane seeming to turn almost its own length.

The Fatal Fall.

As he started the second circle, the middle spur, which braces the left side of the lower plane, gave way and the wing tips of both upper and lower planes folded up as though they had been hinged. For a second Johnstone attempted to right the plane by warping the other wing tip. Then the horrified spectators saw the plane descend like a wounded bird and plunge straight toward the earth.

Johnstone was thrown from his seat as the nose of the plane swung downward. He caught on one of the wire stays between the planes and grasped one of the wooden braces of the upper plane with both hands.

Then working with hands and feet, he fought by main strength to warp the wing tips of both upper and lower planes. For a second it seemed to the white-faced spectators almost under him that he might succeed, for the football helmet he wore, his feet and fell much more rapidly than the plane.

Machine Turns Over.

The hope was only momentary, however, for when only about 300 feet from the ground, the machine completely over and the frightened spectators fled wildly as the broken plane with the tense-faced boy still fighting grimly in its mesh of wires and stays plunged among them with a thud and crash that could be heard over the big field.

Scarcely had he hit the ground when sensation mad brutes, both men and women, swarmed over the wreckage fighting with one another for souvenirs of the terrible occasion. One of the broken wooden stays had thrust its jagged end almost through Johnstone's body. Before doctors or police could reach the scene one man had torn this splinter from the crushed and mangled body and run gleefully away, carrying his horrid trophy with the aviator's blood still dripping from its end. Francis, the crowd tug, saw the canyave from over his body and fought for the very gloves that had protected Johnstone's hands from cold.

Physicians declare death must have been instantaneous.

As Johnstone's back, neck and both legs were broken, the bones of his thighs being forced through the flesh and the leather garments he wore.

Hoxsey in Air at Time.

Arch Hoxsey, who in a previous flight yesterday afternoon had reached an altitude of 2500 feet, had risen just before Johnstone began his fatal glide and was in the air when the accident took place. As he swung around the other end of the course he saw that Johnstone had fallen and guided his machine directly over the body of his friend in descending as soon as he could bring his plane to the ground. He rushed to the wreckage, where he and Walter Brookings helped to lift the mangled body into an automobile, which brought it to the city.

Several Small Accidents.

Thursday in alighting, Johnstone broke the left wing tip of his machine against the fence. It was the same tip that gave way Thursday and caused his death. Thursday when he started on his first flight one of the wheels on which the aeroplane runs along the ground gave way and had to be replaced. As he prepared to start for his last flight, a fox terrier that had broken through the fence, got directly in front of the machine and, backing frantically, refused to be driven away. As the machine rolled down his track one of the wings swept above the dog, which pursued the machine until it lifted into the air.

(Continued on Page Two.)

REVOLT SET IN MEXICO FOR NOV. 20

United States Secret Service Men Learn of Plan for Advance on Border.

NOGALES A CENTER OF MUCH ACTIVITY

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 18.—A general rising along the border from Nogales, Ariz., to Brownsville, Texas, was set for Sunday, Nov. 20, according to federal secret service men. Nogales is headquarters of the junta operating in Sonora. It has been in existence since the raid on Las Vacas two years ago. The brains of the revolutionary movement are in the United States and Europe. The revolutionists are backed by a seemingly inexhaustible supply of money, which has been used to purchase arms in this country.

Federal authorities in Washington were apprised of these facts, but as yet the revolutionists have committed no act that can be constituted as overt, under the federal statutes. Consignments of arms are under surveillance in San Antonio and elsewhere. When an attempt is made to take them across the border, they will be seized and arrests made.

According to federal officers here, the revolutionary propaganda is the release of all political prisoners. The welcoming of all political exiles. The establishment of a popular government.

The capture of all customs houses. Removal from office of Diaz and his adherents.

Mexico Watches Border.

That the Mexican government is moving swiftly to crush any rebellion that may be brewing in the republic was shown when Gen. Villare, commanding the frontier department of the Mexican army, arrived in Nuevo Laredo, opposite Laredo, last night with his staff and an official announced that his headquarters will be changed from Matamoros to Nuevo Laredo.

The greater portion of the Twenty-third regiment will arrive there within a few days.

The swift change in base on the part of the Mexican commander is regarded as especially significant.

None of the Mexican officials will discuss the matter.

MEXICANS ARREST WOMAN AND BABY Wife and Child of Alleged Revolutionist Are Taken Into Custody.

Mexico City, Mex., Nov. 18.—Secret service agents here arrested Mrs. Soledad G. Alvarez de Servatos and her babe in arms together with her servant. The officers called at the home of the woman and took her in custody after learning that her husband was in Orizaba. He was arrested in that city and brought here, the police believing that he is connected with a revolutionary plot and had been advocating revolutionary doctrines.

He is supposed to have been one of Madero's supporters in the recent presidential election. He has been employed as a commercial traveler and has visited various sections of the country.

Several important papers and documents said to refer to a proposed revolt were captured by the secret police.

STRONG ANTI-AMERICAN SENTIMENT IS SHOWN

Guadalajara, Mexico, Nov. 18.—All the principal towns of this state, have pledged themselves to the cause of the United States as a result of the Rodriguez lynching and anti-American demonstrations in Guadalajara and Mexico City.

The state also addressed a request to the minister of war to send an instructor to all towns of the country to form regiments and give military instruction.

A boycott has been established on American music in Guadalajara, 355 musicians having signed a pledge that they will neither buy nor play American music.

A dozen drunken men of the lower class were arrested last night while parading the streets and shouting threats against the Americans.

ANTI-AMERICAN ACTIVITY IN NICARAGUA SUPPRESSED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The liberal leaders alleged to be responsible for the anti-American riots at Leon, Nicaragua, have been expelled from that country by president Estrada, according to a telegram received by the state department from Thomas B. Moffat, U. S. consul at Bluefields.

U. S. consul Olivares at Managua has telegraphed the state department that he has checked the investigation of the anti-American outbreak at Leon and that he believed the government authorities now had the situation well in hand.

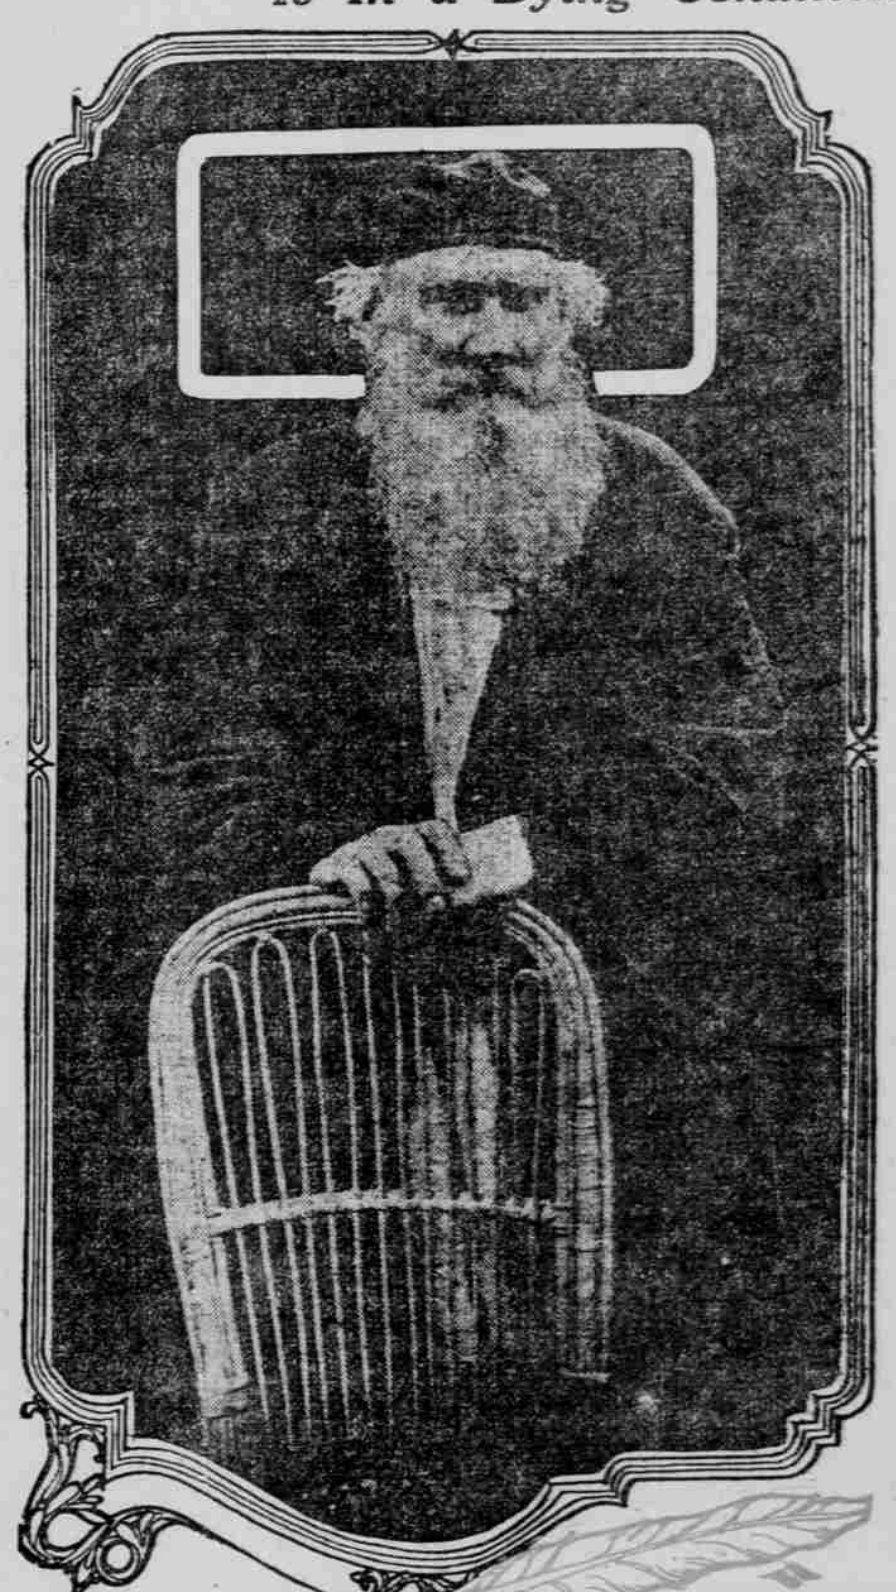

Charles Teich, the American boy who was injured in Sunday's riot, was shot by a soldier as a result of mistaken identity, the consul reports, for the boy did not participate in the disturbance.

The consul confirms the report that the trouble was inaugurated by the liberals, who, incited by the incendiary utterances of their press, insisted upon holding anti-American demonstrations.

BIG GUADALAJARA FIRE.

Guadalajara, Mex., Nov. 18.—Fire destroyed the mercaderia Corona, the largest and most centrally located market place in this city. The market was 16 years old and cost originally $60,000. Persons caught trying to steal merchandise were arrested. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Count Leo Tolstoi Who Is In a Dying Condition

THREE MEN KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

Run Down While at Work on Santa Fe Tracks in Houston.

Houston, Tex., Nov. 18.—Three men were fatally injured at 8 o'clock this morning when struck by a Santa Fe freight train on the Belt and Terminal tracks, where they were working. J. W. Odell, aged 42, died a few minutes after the accident and leaves a wife and family. Rufus Dazelas, a Mexican died at the hospital three hours after the injury. The other victim, who was an American and about 25 years old, is unidentified. He died at 10 o'clock.

NO MORE THIRTEEN CENT STAMPS SOON

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—The 13 cent postage stamp has had its day and the hoodoo domination of Uncle Sam's official stickers is to pass from use. Soon it will be known only to philatelists.

The supply of 13 cent stamps has been exhausted at the postoffice department and no more will be printed. Postmasters over the country have been notified that the 13 cent stamps they may have on hand will pass at right as long as the supply lasts, but that no more will be issued to them.

The 13 cent stamp was first authorized as a convenience to the public, being a combination of the registry fee of 8 cents and the foreign postage of 5 cents. With the raising of the registry fee to 10 cents, the combination figure was disturbed and no occasion remained for using it, and the postmaster general ordered the discontinuance of its manufacture a year ago.

FORT WINGATE IS TO BE ABANDONED

Washington, D. C., Nov. 18.—Thousands of troops will find their stations changed as a result of an order by the war department which affects the soldiers in various sections of the country who will go to Hawaii and the Philippines to relieve those on duty there now.

Three garrisons posts in the United States will be turned over to care takers upon the departure of the troops now stationed in them. These are Fort Wingate, N. M.; Fort Thomas, Ky.; and Fort Ashtabula, Mont.

Among the troops to go to the Philippines are the 3rd cavalry from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, to be replaced by the 14th cavalry, now serving in the Philippines.

TUCSON'S FIRST FIRE CHIEF KILLED AT BLAZE

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Enduring his life in the service of the department he organized, Jack Poleyn, the first fire chief of Tucson, died this morning as a result of injuries sustained at a fire when a roof collapsed and covered him with scalding water.

FIND FOOD IN DESERTED HOUSE, EAT IT AND DIE.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Two Mexicans have died as the result of eating lard and flour they found in an old ranch house in People's valley. A third member of the party, named Delgado, was saved by the prompt action of a ranchwoman, who gave him raw eggs and coffee. It is believed the flour had been poisoned for the purpose of feeding it to gophers.

MARATHON IS ARMED AND EXCITED

Report From Marfa That Armed Mexicans Are Approaching, Calls Men to Arms.

SCOUTS ARE SENT OUT TO REPORT

Marathon, Tex., Nov. 18.—Its citizens armed and greatly excited, Marathon is prepared to meet a band of 50 armed Mexicans reported as marching on this town from the Mexican border. Whether it is another "Rock Springs scare" or whether the armed Mexicans are really in existence, time only can tell. The town was under armed guard all last night and again today. Scouts sent out yesterday afternoon to investigate the report that Mexicans were approaching, will not return until about 4 o'clock to make a report.

The report that armed Mexicans were headed for this place came from a deputy sheriff at Marfa. It is said, but why a Marfa man should decide that this city was to be made the point of attack even if the Mexicans had crossed over, is not known. If they crossed near Marfa, there are several towns nearer to the Mexicans than Marathon, including Alpine; if they crossed the river opposite this point, just how Marfa learned of it, is a mystery.

Anyhow, the people here are greatly excited. As soon as the report was received here, lookouts were posted near the river.

A dispatch from Marfa yesterday afternoon informed the local police that a party of 50 armed Mexicans had crossed the Rio Grande and were headed for Marathon with the evident intention of causing trouble. The police here at once started four scouts in the direction of the river and meanwhile began taking the best possible measures for the protection of the town should the report prove true.

The more conservative believe that if there is any such band of Mexicans in the vicinity, they are robbers or perhaps Mexicans who are organizing as revolutionists in Mexico rather than to do harm to Texans.

ALPINE SHERIFF GOES TO MARATHON TO INVESTIGATE

Alpine, Tex., Nov. 18.—Unable to confirm the report that an armed band of Mexicans is marching from Boquillas onto Marathon, sheriff Walton has gone to the latter place to investigate. The report is not credited here as the very best of feeling exists among the Mexicans and Americans throughout this region.

MARFA CANNOT CONFIRM REPORT SENT FROM THERE

Marfa, Tex., Nov. 18.—There is no further news here regarding Mexicans marching onto Marathon. Officials cannot confirm the report.

Mr. Kleinman, a business man at Presidio, phoned a message to officials in Marfa, saying that he had been informed that 50 armed men had crossed the Rio Grande at Las Boquillas, coming from La Parada. This report was contradicted by several from the same district, so it could not be verified here.

EAGLE PASS CONSUL REPORTS ON ROCK SPRINGS

Eagle Pass, Tex., Nov. 18.—The next step in settling the tangle between the American and Mexican governments arising from the burning of a Mexican at Rock Springs, Tex., will follow the report of consul F. Dep. Villanosa, of Mexico. He has forwarded to his government a voluminous document containing the result of his investigations. Consul Villanosa says the situation at Rock Springs is quiet.

Consul Villanosa concludes that Rodriguez was either insane or a fugitive from justice, traveling under an assumed name. He declares that friendship and good feeling exists at Rock Springs between the Americans and Mexicans, and that the Mexicans informed him that they are satisfied with conditions.

EXPLODING LAMP KILLS MOTHER, BURNS DAUGHTER

Wichita Falls, Texas, Nov. 18.—Mrs. W. P. Wilkes, aged 35 years, is dead, Miss Pearl Sykes is believed to be dying and a 2-year-old daughter of Mrs. Sykes is painfully burned as the result of the simultaneous explosion of a natural gas stove and a coal oil lamp at the Wilkes home last night. Two houses owned by C. A. Riggs, and worth $5000, were destroyed by the fire which followed the explosion.

Mrs. Wilkes had started through the room carrying a lamp when it exploded, and almost immediately a terrific explosion of gas followed. It is believed the gas had been turned on in a stove and not lighted, or else was leaking. Oil was scattered over Mrs. Wilkes' clothing and before she could reach the street every stitch was burned off her body.

Miss Sykes, with the three children, was in another room. Her clothing was set afire, and she also ran into the street, where a neighbor tore the clothing from her body.

OIL STRIKE ON RANCH CAUSES RUSH TO BOWIE

Tombstone, Ariz., Nov. 18.—Oil has been discovered at Bowie, Ariz., on a cattle ranch. The entire district has gone wild over the find. The oil sands found, it is said, will very likely rival in quality and quantity the famous Glenn-Pool oil district of Oklahoma.

Many prospectors are busy drilling in the hope of finding a gusher. Men from all sections are hunting and locating claims near the present rich find, and much excitement prevails.